

Husbandry practices

Approval is not required for the training and application of farm work practices where:

- The animals are at their home property
- The procedures would normally occur as part of routine management
- The animals are subjected to no procedures additional to what would normally occur
- The supervisor or trainer is competent to carry out the procedure.